*Turas Collection
Aviation Volume No. 19*

Turas Collection

Expedition. Excursion. Voyage. All define a passage from one place to another. Inspired by the deeply-rooted Irish word for journey, Turas is a collection inspired by different cultures exploring their own world of travel and movement.

SYMBOL

Many cultures communicate by means of a visual language. Messages occur by making use of many common symbols through artwork to not only tell their stories but preserve their culture. Alchera and Alluvion are interpretations of a traditional icon for a river drawn with flowing, curvaceous lines.

GLACIAL

For generations, the indigenous people of the Arctic have used natural materials to create vehicles to assist in their difficult journeys. Awani and Crevasse exemplify the impressions and tracks made through the frozen terrain.

TERRACE

Walking on ancient pathways can lead one to an exploration into a different world—its culture, its meaning, its magic. Beautifully designed terraces are evidence of early agricultural innovation. The distinctive linear landscape and balanced harmony is worthy of replication in the pattern Arroyo.

PATHWAY

Inspired by arterial roads, intersections and pure momentum, Caravan and Jornada are the epitome of journey. The parallel and intersecting lines tell a story of "from here to there."

W86464: Jornada with silk and worsted wool

SAVANNAH

Many primitive civilizations around the world still travel by foot. From treacherous rocky terrain to effortless grasslands, Viaje and Waters mimic the lyrical, swirling patterns of landscape found throughout these native lands.

JETTY

Deflecting currents and providing protection, jetties serve as a natural or man-made barrier between land and sea. Moved by the interaction of these elements along coastal waters, Zona and Mesa were developed to evoke a sense of environmental serenity.
